

Assistive Technology Resources for Early Intervention

Baby Power: A Guide for Families For Using Assistive Technology With Their Infants and Toddlers

National Center to Improve Practice in Special Education Through Technology, Media and Materials

<http://www2.edc.org/NCIP/library/ec/Power.htm>

Tots-n-Tech Institute "is an inter-university collaboration between Thomas Jefferson University and Arizona State University. TnT conducts a national research program about use of assistive technology (AT) to enhance the development of infants and toddlers with disabilities."

<http://www.asu.edu/clas/tnt/>

The Family Center on Technology and Disabilities

"The Family Center is a resource designed to support organizations and programs that work with families of children and youth with disabilities." They provide resources by topic as well as state.

<http://www.fctd.info/>

Early Intervention and AT

<http://www.fctd.info/resources/searchResult.php?searchTerm=AT%20for%20Early%20Intervention&startRow=1&maxRows=5>

Let's Play! Projects - University at Buffalo - Center for Assistive Technology

"...provides ideas and strategies to promote play through better access to play materials, and use assistive technology to give children this critical access."

<http://letsplay.buffalo.edu/index.html>

Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) Connecting Young Kids (YAACK) is an extensive "website that covers issues related to AAC and young children."

<http://aac.unl.edu/yaack/>

Utah Augmentative Alternative Assistive Communication and Technology Teams (UAAACT) - State Office of Education (The Computer Center for Citizens with Disabilities)

<http://www.usor.utah.gov:81/uaaact/>

Creative Communicating - Early learning website.

<http://www.creativecommunicating.com/>